| | | GCE Cambridge Certificate | All International Learners who complete and pass AS Level Examinations |

Additional Cambridge International Qualifications

In addition to the Berkeley International School Graduation Certificate, Learners in the International Program may work towards one or more of the following internationally recognised Cambridge qualifications. These are awarded directly by Cambridge International Education and are separate from the school's own graduation awards.

ICE Diploma: International Certificate of Education

A group-based qualification recognising breadth of study across the Cambridge IGCSE curriculum.

- A minimum of 7 IGCSE subjects must be passed, drawn from at least 5 subject groups.
- Languages (2 subjects) and Mathematics are compulsory components.
- Awarded at Distinction, Merit, or Pass level based on overall grades achieved.

GCE Certificate: General Certificate of Education

A subject-by-subject qualification awarded for each Cambridge AS Level or A Level examination passed.

- Results for all passed subjects are recorded on a Cambridge GCE certificate, issued per examination session
- There is no minimum number of subjects required; a single passed subject qualifies for a GCE Certificate.

Note: Three AS Level exams passed are equivalent to the National Diploma.

AICE Diploma: Advanced International Certificate of Education

A rigorous group-based diploma at AS/A Level that recognises breadth and depth of advanced study.

- A minimum of 7 credits must be accumulated, spanning at least 3 subject groups.
- Credit weighting: AS Level = 1 credit; A Level = 2 credits.
- Global Perspectives (AS Level) is a compulsory component of the AICE Diploma.
- Widely recognised by universities worldwide as evidence of advanced, broad-based academic preparation.

Note: These Cambridge qualifications are governed by Cambridge International Education and are awarded independently of Berkeley International School's graduation process. Eligibility, registration, and examination arrangements are managed in coordination with the Cambridge Examination Officer. Students are encouraged to discuss their qualification goals with their Curriculum Coordinator.
